Washington, D.C. – [June 20, 2007] – Long View Gallery is pleased to announce a group exhibition of paintings revisiting the artists we have shown over the past year. Artists include Judith Thompson, Matt Hollis, Dana Ellyn, Gerard Erley, Chris Stephens and Margaret Rogers. The exhibition dates are July 7 – August 4, with an opening reception on Saturday, July 7, from 6 to 8 pm.

As Long View Gallery's first year comes to a close we want to look back and celebrate the artists that have made this crucial year a success. From the intriguing women that populate Judith Thompson's work to the delicate and surreal drawings of Matt Hollis, this group show is sure to have artwork that will excite all tastes in art. Dana Ellyn's politically charged pieces will be juxtaposed nicely by Gerard Erley's breezy landscapes - the visual tension on the walls will be high as styles and subject matter clash in a colorful array of inspired pieces.

Join us in celebration of great art, wonderful people, and a year under our belts!

About Long View Gallery

Long View Gallery (longviewgallery.com) was founded in 2000 by Andrew Haley and Suzanne Zylonis in Sperryville, Virginia, a small town that is 75 miles from Washington, D.C. In 2006, William Waybourn and Craig Spaulding joined with them to open the second Long View Gallery in the historic Shaw neighborhood of Washington, D.C. Long View presents an outstanding collection of contemporary American painting and sculpture by regional and nationally known artists.
